Pastor's Newsletter

“Let mutual love continue. Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by doing that some have entertained angels without knowing it.”

Hebrews 13:1-2

The above text comes from our New Testament reading for August 28th. It's a beautiful passage; maybe you even have it memorized. But when was the last time that you really thought about hospitality?

Throughout his ministry, Jesus welcomed sinners, tax collectors, children, soldiers, women, folks with disabilities, folks who were poor, immigrants, and folks who were sick. He even showed hospitality to Judas Iscariot while washing his betrayer's feet. I wonder, however, what it would look like for us to follow this model. In particular, I wonder what hospitality might look like in the age of COVID, as we each struggle with trauma, grief, financial constraints, and health concerns. It can be difficult to open ourselves up to others when we are so preoccupied with our own situations.

I think that this is particularly true for churches. Many churches today have fallen into a fear of scarcity. We worry about money, membership, and the future. This is a false scarcity, however. God has blessed us with everything we need, and God has promised to walk with us. As faithful people, it is our job to proclaim the plenty that God offers, and to trust in God's promises. This is crucial, because fear is destructive. It creates anxious, inhospitable environments and suspicion. On the other hand, a faithful group is secure in their own identity as children of God; this creates a welcoming space for everyone.

This year, I have spoken with a few new members at House of Prayer. Each person has praised this congregation for their welcoming spirit and hospitality. I want to affirm this energy and encourage it. We, as a congregation, have a lot of love to give to the world. God has blessed us profoundly, and has encouraged us in our ministries. It is our job to respond to God's blessings with hospitality for the world. As a House of Prayer for all people, we have the calling to welcome everyone and be a home for all.

We will have plenty of opportunities to practice this sort of hospitality over the next few months. On September 14th, we will begin a new program called Keenager's Study & Fellowship. This group will meet each Wednesday in the Fellowship Hall 10:00am – 11:30am. It will include a short Bible Study followed by some sort of fellowship activity. The group may celebrate one or two meals throughout the year (around Christmas and Easter), but it will not centralize around meals. It is a new program altogether. Since Covid, I know that many folks have become isolated and disconnected. This is especially true in our neighborhoods. I want to invite everyone to give this opportunity a chance. Reconnect with your neighbors. Invite guests to attend. Create a space for everyone.

In addition, we will host our annual Fiesta on September 18th, right after worship. We will be celebrating Mexican Culture with delicious food, Mariachi music, Folk dancers, and more. This will be a great family event. I encourage everyone to attend for a bit, volunteer as you are able, and invite others. Help spread the word.

I also want to briefly mention some other activities that are being planned for the future months. We will have a couple events in October and November to volunteer with Interfaith Community Services. We are also planning a memorial service for folks who passed away during the pandemic in October. In addition, we will host a Bell concert on November 5th, and our Christmas Festival of Song will be on December 2nd. In general, we have a lot of exciting things happening at House of Prayer. I encourage everyone to step forward as you are able, and participate in the life of the congregation. I also want to encourage everyone to engage in regular hospitality in the congregation. Welcome visitors of all kinds; open doors to everyone. Invite your neighbors to attend services and special events. Live as a faithful church, expectant and grateful for God's blessings. Finally, live courageously, not in a spirit of fear, but in a spirit of true hospitality. For by welcoming the stranger, some have entertained angels without knowing it.

Good news! Choir season is back! Now is your chance to be part of something big at House of Prayer. What's holding you back from joining? Let me share a few thoughts...

Don't want a big commitment? Just commit to a month and see how it goes. We meet every Wednesday at 6:30 for an hour, then we usually sing in services twice a month.

Don't think you can sing? No experience necessary. We love to have fun and God loves to hear our voices as we join together to worship him in song. "The woods would be very silent if no birds sang except those who sang best." ~Henry Van Dyke

Don't know how to read music? That is NOT a requirement. We all work together to make the music happen.

Please consider joining us! All are welcome!

Yours in Christ!
Carol

Save the date..

Saturday, November 5, 1:00pm - San Diego Harmony Ringers hand bell concert here at House of Prayer.

Friday, December 2, 6:00pm - Christmas Festival of Song. Come join in an evening of fun and music to kick off the Advent season.

A note from:
Community Support Minister

With the money given for our school supply collection, we were able to buy 18 backpacks to give to children of Rose Elementary. We partnered with Route 78 rotary Club, who supplied 12 of the backpacks with supplies for students in the 3-6 grades. Members of House of Prayer also donated two bins full of classroom supplies. Then with money left from the collection, we were able to give gift cards to Rose to help families in need.

Our Visitation team has been together for two months now and been able to call, visit and share communion with our shut-in members. We continue to meet the first Sunday of each month.

We had our first Prayer Circle meeting in July. It was a time to lift up our prayers together in a small group. We will meet again on the 2nd Sunday after church service. All are invited to share this time with us. We also have updated our prayer request forms to help you communicate your prayer need to us.

Our Keenagers Bible Study and Fellowship will be starting on Wednesday, September 14th. We will meet weekly at 10:00 am. We will share in some bible study time, fellowship and different activities each week.

The big event for this month is the Fiesta. It is on September 18 at 11:00am. I hope everyone will attend; we always have a lot of fun at this event. This is a great time to invite a friend.

We are looking at two events with Interfaith Community services. We would like to have a sack lunch drive, where we would provide the materials and make 100 sack lunches for Interfaith to hand. I am looking for someone to help me plan and organize the event.

The other event is providing a dinner meal for Haven House. We are scheduled for Oct. 17. We will need 6 people for this event.

Confirmation will be starting in October. We also have some baptisms, and first communion class in the planning. We have a few other things in the planning process and will let you know when we have more information.

Has you can see we have great things happening at House of Prayer.
God's peace to you all,

Kitty Wiebe

24 and let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, 25 not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. Hebrews 10:24-25 RSV

Henry's Trip to Germany

In case you were wondering why the House of Prayer organist was absent for the month of July, it was cuz I was on a trip to Germany sponsored by the Association of Lutheran Church Musicians. We visited Munich, Salzburg and Innsbruck (Austria), Oberammergau (where we saw the famous Oberammergauer Passionsspiele, which has been performed every ten years since 1634), Nuremberg, Eisenach (Johann Sebastian Bach's birthplace in 1685: his house is now a museum), Erfurt (where Martin Luther hid out in a castle for 10 months to preserve his life), Leipzig (where Bach taught for 25 years at St. Thomaskirche), Dresden, Wittenberg (where Martin Luther posted his 95 theses on the door of the Schlosskirche), and Berlin.

A few hours after returning to California, I was knocked out and bedridden for two days with COVID! Five people on our trip got it in Germany and had to quarantine in their hotel rooms while we went off gallivanting. So I had to take two more Sundays off until I was not contagious. Special thanks to my boss, Carol, for letting me go, and for Harlan and the church administration for helping to fund my trip. (Educational purposes only, of course! Although I did sample quite a few delicious German beers.)

Respectfully,
Henry Doktorski

From Pacifica Synod Bishop
Dave Nagler

August 1, 2022

Dear Co-Workers in the Gospel of the Pacifica Synod,
Grace and peace to you in the name of Jesus the Christ; the Savior of the universe!

It is with excitement, humility, and joy that I write this first message to you as the Bishop of the Pacifica Synod!

Ministry is a team sport. The Church is a relay race run across the millennia. Our mission to share the unfathomably good news of God’s unconditional love for all people. Siblings in Christ have carried this gospel in times of trial and of ease. Many have given their lives so that we can learn the teachings of Jesus and enjoy the life-giving freedom of knowing that we are loved just as we are. Our forebears have handed the baton of this treasure to us, and it is our calling to carry it well and hand it off to future generations.

Bishop Andy Taylor carried this leadership baton well for us and hands off a synod that is strong and spiritually connected. I am grateful to him for his faithful service! Now the crozier of servant leadership has been passed to me on behalf of all of us. I accept this ministry not because I trust in my power to do so but knowing that it is God who will equip and empower me. I also trust that my leadership is tied to yours. We all bear the mark of God given to us in our baptisms to preach, teach, disciple, and serve.

On this first day, I wanted to share a few themes that will hopefully express how I see our life together.

1. Radical Inclusivity. John 3 tells us that God so loved the KOSMOS, the world, that God gave the only Son. Too often we have narrowed this definition of who God loves in ways that have harmed people made in the image of God. This is the time in which the Church of Jesus Christ has been called to see and dismantle any barrier to full inclusion by all of God’s children. I am excited that we will be led in this work by the Synod’s Anti-Racism Team.

2. Setting Matters.

We are a border synod. The border crossing at San Ysidro and Otay Mesa are the busiest border crossings in our country. People seeking a better life pour through these gates every day. Many others avoid the formal ports of entry risking their lives in the hot desert to find a new home among us. We must reclaim our birthright as an immigrant church descended from our spiritual forebears who we taught to say, “A wandering Aramean was my ancestor.” (Dt. 26:5) These are our neighbors who we have been privileged to serve.

We are a coastal synod. The gorgeous Pacific Ocean is part of our territory and our name. It is currently too warm and too polluted. Climate issues are not just material matters but spiritual ones. We are called to walk alongside our coastlines in a way that honors the gift that they are.

From Pacifica Synod Bishop Dave Nagler

We are an incredibly diverse community. There are many languages spoken in our synod. We have the richest and the poorest cities within our borders. Our congregations include siblings that vote conservatively and those who support liberal politics. Our call is to find ways to honor and celebrate the gift of diversity. That means finding ways to practice hospitality, learning to truly listen, and never claiming supremacy for one group of people or one way of thinking.

3. Decentralizing. The untested promise of the Reformation remains the “priesthood of all believers.” The church is filled with baptized people who have all the gifts we need to meet this moment in history, but that means working together and sharing power. My vision is for dispersed synod leadership that empowers local leaders; rostered and non-rostered, to accomplish the work of the church. The main questions should be, do you have passion, and do you have gifts? How do we combine those to accomplish the wider mission of the church?

4. Innovation is essential. The definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over and expecting different results. We can see all the trendlines of the denomination and of many of our congregations. The pandemic has accelerated the trends leaving us wondering about the true state of our ministries. Working harder is not the answer. I know that you all work very hard. Collaboration and innovation are the way forward. How can we share our efforts? What do we need to stop doing? Can we try what seems crazy now but might be the path to a new future? Can we get over our fear of failure and learn to laugh when our great ideas don’t pan out?

5. The parish is more important than the congregation. Mission requires that we keep our focus on being a servant community to our neighbors and not just tending to the needs of our members. So, we ask different questions. What is happening in each of our neighborhoods? Where is the pain? What is the hope? Can we re-engage with our neighbors in such a way that we embody the good news that we proclaim?

6. Self-care is not selfish. The work of ministry is never done. There are ample opportunities to overwork and burn out. Taking time off, exercising, eating well, getting good sleep, having fun with friends, and prioritizing our spiritual practices are essential for our life together. In the book of Exodus, the commandment to rest on the sabbath was given before the rest of the 10 commandments. (Ex. 16) My day off will be Friday. I want to encourage all of us to find balance and health.

7. Love is at the center. In 1 John 4 we learn that God is love and that those who love others know and love God. When Jesus gave his only commandment, he asked his followers to love one another as he loved them. Our congregations must become practice centers for love. We must model love in our speech and actions towards one another. This is even more true when we disagree or are dealing with the weighty issues of justice. Let me be clear that I am not calling for niceness or sentimentality, but for love. May the God who is Love inspire and teach us how to do this well!

That seems like enough for this first letter from me! I apologize for the length of this missive. I want to invite you all to help make this into a conversation. Please respond with your thoughts to davenagler@pacificasynod.org. May the Spirit blow through our lives and empower us to be who we are, God’s children!

Peace,

Bishop Dave Nagler

Church Council Report

HOP Leadership Spotlight

Serving on the Church Council in a leadership position is an honor and delight. Those who serve bring an immense array of talents to bear on the ministries of HOP. Each month, we are going to "spotlight" one of our Officers and Councilmembers to share their stories of time, talents, and hopes for our future.

Meet your Council Secretary - JoEllen,

JoEllen was born in Los Angeles, is a second-generation Californian, and has lived in Escondido since she was three years old. She has seen the City grow from an agricultural community of 1,500 to a mature, full-service city of 150,000.

JoEllen and her husband Darrell joined HOP in 1994. They were immediately impressed with the welcoming and friendly nature of the congregation. This is her "second stint" as your Council Secretary. She describes the position as "intense, but fun". Her responsibilities require attention to detail and her work experience as an Escrow Officer (25 years at San Diego Trust and Savings Bank) gives HOP a skilled and valuable asset. JoEllen spends approximately six hours a month maintaining our records and preparing Council meeting minutes. She said "she feels involved and contributing" to the needs of the church in her role as Secretary. JoEllen is also a member of the newly formed Visitation Team.

Going forward, JoEllen would like to see more HOP opportunities and ministries directed at the youth in Escondido. She is interested in exploring new ways to utilize our Scholarship Fund to support the needs of deserving students who could call HOP home.

Thanks, JoEllen for the generosity of your time, talents, and support to the vision and mission HOP!

WHAT IS COUNCIL UP TO:

The council and the property committee having been working on security updates. You may have noticed that a security gate has been installed in front of the entrance to the Fellowship Hall. Keep your eyes open for further rod iron gating along the sides of the Sanctuary. We are hoping to discourage the homeless from hanging out and make it more safe for our parishioners and staff who are on campus alone at different times. More security to come.

Our fellowship committee has been working with the Hispanic members to put on our annual Fiesta. This Fiesta promises to be the best one ever. Save the date Sunday September 18th.

If you are wondering about the bare walls in the Fellowship Hall stay tuned Jeanette O'Hare and her committee are designing a HOP memory wall. If you have pictures or ideas or want to help get in touch with Jeanette.

Stay tuned for further updates on the new Keenager's get together that Kitty is working on with Pastor.

We are still looking for a "few good" volunteers to join the recently created Property Committee (five members)!

The duties of the committee are detailed in the continuing resolutions above. In anticipation of forming this team, the Council recently authorized the inspection of the three buildings on the church campus. The inspection was performed by Tom Nelson, a certified inspector with 30 years of experience. His report has been completed and it details three levels of recommended maintenance improvements to our facilities. One of the first agenda items for the Property Committee will be to prioritize improvement activities that will need to be addressed either through congregational "sweat equity" or budgeted in the 2023 capital budget.

Please let Romero Acosta or Pastor Christina know of your interest in helping with important work!
